Do you...

- Find yourself turning the volume on your TV louder?
- Find that voices are muffled and difficult to understand when you watch movies or shows?
- Have family starting to complain that you watch TV too loud?
- Find yourself falling asleep during some of your favorite programs?
- Wish you could hear the TV like you used to?

If you answered "yes" to any of the questions above, we may have a solution that can help you hear the TV like you used to. Introducing HyperSound Clear™ 500P; a new, revolutionary home audio system specifically designed to help individuals and their families have a better television listening experience without the need for additional wearable devices.

- With HyperSound Clear™ you control your own volume using the HyperSound Clear™ remote while family and friends use the TV's standard volume control.
- HyperSound Clear™ improves sound clarity and speech intelligibility so that you can better understand what people are saying.
- HyperSound Clear™ is like a spotlight of customized sound focused on you, so you can hear the TV without disturbing people around you.

We are excited to have a HyperSound Clear™ system in our office so you and your family can experience together.
